Asaf Avidan - Prelude to Diaspora

```
Sim

Sim                          Sol
  Your beauty is the olive mountain
Mim                     Fa#
   Trampled by the Roman siege
Sim                          Sol
Your beauty is the burning bodies
Mim                     Fa#
   Stacked up on the narrow bridge

Sol          Sim
  I will always carry
Sol                          Sim  La
   The weight of oceans in my eyes
Sol                     Sim
Love and Death will always bind me
 La                  Sol
In tears I never cried
 La                  Sol   Sim
In tears I never cried

Sim                       Sol
   Your beauty is the holy chamber
Mim                     Fa#
   Drowning in the golden flame
Sim                          Sol
   Your beauty is the priest that's broken
Mim                     Fa#
    With no god left to blame

Sol          Sim
  I will always carry
Sol                          Sim  La
   The weight of oceans in my eyes
Sol                         Sim
  Love and Death will always bind me
 La                  Sol
In tears I never cried
 La                  Sol   Sim
In tears I never cried

Sim Sol Sim Sol Sim La Sol
Sim La Sol La Sol Sim

Sim                              Sol
   Your beauty is the hidden treasure
Mim                    Fa#
   In the bellies of the lost
Sim                          Sol
    Your beauty is the last rebellion
Mim                       Fa#
   Nailed onto the wooden cross
Sim                          Sol
   Your beauty is the Gate of Mercy
Mim                     Fa#
   They said would never fall
Sim                          Sol
   Your beauty is the hungry jackals
Mim                        Fa#
    Sweeping through the broken wall

Sol          Sim
  I will always carry
