Michael Bublé - Close your eyes

Do

            Lam
Close your eyes
                            Rem
Let me tell you the reasons why
                       Sol
Think you're one of a kind.
          Do
Here's to you
                                Lam
The one that always pulls us through
                           Rem
Always do what you got to do
                 Do
You're one of a kind
                 Sol
Thank god your mine.

        Do
You're an angel dressed in armor
Rem                       Sol
You're the fair in every fight
      Do
You're my life and my safe harbor
Rem                             Sol
Where the sun sets every night
    Fa               Do
And if my love is blind
   Lam         Mim             Fa     Sol
I don't want to see the light.

          Do
It's your beauty that betrays you
     Rem               Sol
Your smile gives you away.
            Do
Cause you're made of strength and mercy
       Rem               Sol
And my soul is yours to save
   Fa                    Do
And when this much is true
 Lam          Mim           Fa      Do
When my world was dark and blue
   Rem                                    Sol
I know the only one who rescued me was you

           Do
Close your eyes
                                 Lam
Let me tell you all the reasons why
                                Rem
You're never going to have to cry
                           Sol
Because you're one of a kind
                 Do
Yeah here's to you
                                Lam
                                 Rem
You always do what you got to do babe
                           Do     Sol
Because you're one of a kind.

Rem                              Sol
When your love pours down on me
                     Do
I know I'm finally free
     Do7+            Lam
So I tell you gratefully
Rem                        Fa
every single beat in my heart
            Sol
Is yours to keep

           Re
Close your eyes
                                 Sim
Let me tell you all the reasons why
                                Mim
                           La
               Re
Yeah here's to you
                                          Sim
You're the one that always pulls us through
                                 Mim
                           La
Because you're one of a kind.

          Re
You're the reason why I'm breathing.
Mim                     La
With a little look my way
          Re
You're the reason that I'm feeling
Mim                    Sim   La   Re
It's finally safe to stay!
