Alanis Morissette - You oughta know

Fa#m                        Si
I want you to know that I'm happy for you.
Fa#m                        Si
I wish nothing but the best for you both.
         Fa#m                      Fa#m
An older version of me Is she perverted like me?
              Si                          Si
Would she go down on you in a theater?
               Fa#m                         Fa#m
Does she speak eloquently? And would she have your baby?
               Si                          Si
I'm sure she'd make a really excellent mother.
           Fa#m
'Cause the love that you gave that we made
              La                             Si              Si
wasn't able to make it enough for you to be open wide. No,
Fa#m
and every time you speak her name
         La
does she know how you told me you'd hold me
   Si
until you died? Till you died, but you're still alive.
        Fa#            Mi
And I'm here to remind you
           La                       Si
of the mess you left when you went away.
         Fa#        Mi
It's not fair to deny me
         La                    Si
of the cross I bear that you gave to me.
Si            N.C.
You, you, you oughta know.
Fa#m
You seem very well.
Si
Things look peaceful.
Fa#m
I'm not quite as well.
Si
I thought you should know.
          Fa#m                   Fa#m
Did you forget about me, Mr. Duplicity?
          Si                           Si
I hate to bug you in the middle of dinner.
         Fa#m                             Fa#m
It was a slap in the face how quickly I was replaced,
             Si                       Si
and are you thinking of me when you fuck her?
           Fa#m
'Cause the love that you gave that we made
              La                               Si              Si
wasn't able to make it enough for you to be open wide. No,
Fa#m
and every time you speak her name
         La
does she know how you told me you'd hold me
   Si                                          Si
until you died? Till you died, but you're still alive.
        Fa#            Mi
And I'm here to remind you
           La                       Si
of the mess you left when you went away.
         Fa#        Mi
It's not fair to deny me

         La                    Si
of the cross I bear that you gave to me.
Si            N.C.
You, you, you oughta know.
Fa#m Si   x4
          Fa#m
Cause the joke that you laid in the bed that was me,
         La                             Si                              Si
and I'm not gonna fade as soon as you close your eyes, and you know it.
    Fa#m
And every time I scratch my nails down
La
someone else's back
           Si                          Si
I hope you feel it. Can you feel it?
        Fa#            Mi
And I'm here to remind you
           La                       Si
of the mess you left when you went away.
         Fa#        Mi
It's not fair to deny me
         La                    Si
of the cross I bear that you gave to me.
