Taylor Swift - Red

```
La  Do#m  Si

                    La                  Do#m
Lovin' him is like, drivin' a new Maserati
                  Si
Down a dead end street
La                            Do#m
Faster than the wind, passionate as sin
          Si
Ended so suddenly
                    La
Loving him is like, tryin' to change your mind
            Do#m                          Si
Once you're already flying through the free fall
         La                   Do#m
Like the colors in autumn so bright
                  Si          N.C.
Just before they lose it all

                La                      Mi
Losing him was blue, like I'd never known
                 Si
Missing him was dark grey, all alone
                   La                           Do#m
Forgetting him was like trying to know somebody
           Si
You never met
                   La
But loving him was red
          Do#m       Si
Re ee ed, re ee ed, re ee ed
                La
Lovin' him was red
          Do#m       Si
Re ee ed, re ee ed, re ee ed

                        La                        Do#m
Touching him was like, realizing all you ever wanted
                   Si
Was right there in front of you
                        La                         Do#m
Memorizing him was as, easy as knowin' all the words
                    Si
To your old favorite song
Fighting with him was like tryin' to solve a
               Do#m                            Si
Crossword and realizing there's no right answer
                         La                           Do#m
Regretting him was like wishing you never found out
                        Si
That love could be that strong

                La                      Mi
                 Si
Missing him was dark grey, all alone
                   La                           Do#m
           Si
                   La
          Do#m          Si
Re ee ed, re ee ed, oh red, re ee ed

                          La               Si
Remembering him comes in flashbacks and echos
                    Do#m            Si/Re#
Tellin' myself it's time now gotta let go
     Mi              La
But moving on from him is impossible
     Mi/Sol#                       Si
When I still see it all in my, head
            La   Do#m Si
And burning red
       La          Do#m Si
Burning, it was reeeeed

                   La La La N.C.             Mi Mi Mi N.C.
Oh losing him was blue, like I'd never known
                 Si Si Si N.C.           Si Si Si
Missing him was dark grey, all alone
                    La                        Do#m
Forgetting him was like tryin' to know somebody
          Si
You never met
Cause loving him was red
Do#m         Si
Yeah, yeah, red
           La   Do#m Si
Oh Burning reeeeeeeed

           La                   Do#m             Si
And that's Why he's spinnin' 'round in my head
                                La
Comes back to me, burnin' red
  Do#m     Si
Yeah, yeah

                    La                  Do#m
His love was like, drivin' a new Maserati
                Si
