U2 - Love rescue me

La           La7
Love rescue me
     Re                  La
Come forth and speak to me
         La                   Mi
Raise me up and don't let me fall
   La            La7
No man is my enemy
       Re              La
My own hands imprison me
La     Mi      La
Love rescue me
 La                     La7
Many strangers have I met
       Re            La
On the road to my regret
                                          Mi
Many lost who seek to find themselves in me
     La           La7
They ask me to reveal
         Re                       La
The very thoughts they would conceal
La     Mi      La
Love rescue me
        Re                       La
And the sun in the sky makes a shadow of you and I
                      La                Mi
Stretching out as the sun sinks in the sea
    La              La7
I'm here without a name
       Re            La
in the palace of my shame
La         Mi      La
Said love rescue me
 La                       La7
In the cold mirror of a glass
  Re                  La
I see my reflection pass
          La                                Mi
I see the dark shades of what I used to be
          La             La7
I see the purple of her eyes
    Re             La
The scarlet of my lies
La     Mi      La
Love rescue me
Mi                                La
Yeah though I walk through the valley of the shadow
Mi                  La
Yet I will fear no evil
La                           La7
I have cursed thy rod and staff
        Re              La
They no longer comfort me
La     Mi      La
Love rescue me
La                                La7
Sha la la, sha la la la
Re                  La
Sha la la la, ha la la
La                           La7
Sha la la la, sha la la la
        Re              La
Sha la la la, sha la la

La      Mi       La
I said love, love rescue me
La             La7           Re                La
I said love Climb up the mountains, said love
La                   Mi
I said love, oh my love
La                                 La7
On the hill of the son, I'm on the eve of a storm
         Re               La
And my word you must believe in
La      Mi       La
I said love, rescue me
La         La7       Re       La           La             Mi
Oh yeah, oh yeah, oh yeah, Hooooooooo, Hooooooooo, Hooooooooo
La                            La7
Yeah I'm here without a name
         Re               La
In the palace of my shame
La      Mi       La
I said love rescue me
     La             La7
I've conquered my past
    Re                  La
The future is here at last
 La                                                  Mi
I stand at the entrance to a new world I can see
    La             La7
The ruins to the right of me
     Re               La
Will soon have lost sight of me
La      Mi       La
Love rescue me
